

Josephine Thiesen

Actress & Singer

Josephine Thiesen was born in Hamburg in 1999 and comes fresh from the Rostock University of Music and Theatre. She has appeared in the Warner Bros. series “Two Sides of the Abyss”, the ARTE short film “Ein Kleiner Schnitt” and the fairy tale film Zwergnase, among others.

During her studies she experimented with vocal improvisations and recitations in different languages together with her “Sonder Ensemble”, which consists of four percussionists and a sound designer.

Josephine is also active in the world of “new music” and practices classical singing on the side. She has set the ten books of the Rainbow Fish to music as audio books and is fluent in German, English, Spanish, French and Italian.

Among other things, she occasionally models and has been featured in Italian Vogue and for the Loewe brand.
