

Pedro Berbel Tauste

Percussionist

Born in Villanueva del Arzobispo, he began his musical studies of percussion at the age of 7 in the Musical Association “La Inmaculada” and the Musical Association of Villanovense, finishing his professional studies in the Conservatory “Ramón Garay” of Jaén.

He continued his studies at the Royal Conservatory of Music “Victoria Eugenia” in Granada. At the same time, he is a member of the Barenboim-Said Academy of Orchestral Studies as well as of the OCG Young Academy.

He studied his Master’s degree at the Hochschule für Musik und Theater Rostock, Germany, where he will develop his professional activity in different orchestral academies such as the Radio Leipzig, or Staatskapelle Berlin under the baton of Maestro Barenboim.

In addition, he collaborates with various orchestras such as the West-Eastern Divan Orchestra, Deutsches Sinfonie Orchester or Orquesta Ciudad de Granada, conducted by Zubin Mehta, Andrés Orozco-Estrada, Pablo Heras-Casado, among others.

He is currently percussionist of the Dortmunder Philharmoniker in Dortmund, Germany.
